1 ORGANISATIONAL BACKGROUND

People's Forum is a more than two decade old developmental organisation engaged in various development activities in the state of Odisha since 1989. People's Forum started its journey with community awareness & sensitisation programme and mobilising resources for catering to the need of the communities and gradually engaged in enhancing livelihood, education, mental health and financial inclusion. It began with a major focus on women as a centre of development and gave much emphasis for the development of mentally ill women who are the most vulnerable and relatively weaker section of the society. People's Forum provided a platform to the community whose voices remain unheard, rights ignored and basic entitlements not accomplished. Realising the need of the hour, people's forum stepped in to the mental health area in 2003 to address the health care needs, rescue & rehabilitation of distressed women & all round support to mentally ill destitute women for their better health and dignity in the society. Therefore, the main focus was to create sensitisation and awareness among people, mobilising youth and working towards people's collectives to let them realize their entitlements and enabling their access to basic development services.

Over the course of time as the development scenario changed and looking at the emergency needs of the people in difficulty, People's Forum started working in a strategic framework, particularly in a mission mode to address multiplicity of problems. The organisation relooked its strategic mandate and supported education, livelihood, financial inclusion, health and sanitation services within the ambit of human rights and entitlements. In due course the pioneers of people's forum realized that the project based activities are not enough to meet its stated objectives and adopted larger development framework with a gamut of developmental, techno social and social enterprise approaches. People's Forum set in motion with the right based approach, ensuring the rights of the weaker sections.

People's Forum thereafter engaged itself in the expansion of financial inclusion services while tying up with banks as a Business Correspondent, and intervened in other composite projects like providing avenues to develop safe Water and Sanitation facilities. This was strategically well thought to bring in livelihood security and living a quality life for the underserved community.

This organisation also grew to provide welfare support by advancing from the charity approach. Rescue, Relief & Rehabilitation became the central activities of the organisation. People's Forum reformed and restructured its working strategies entirely by adopting the developmental approach. Activities such as livelihood restoration, imbuing value based institution; skill development and cluster development etc. are a crucial part of the gamut of activities undertaken by People's Forum today. The organisation is taking initiatives to create awareness for adopting sustainable agricultural practices in the operational areas involving marginal & small farmers. In a move to strengthen rural livelihood, organisation seeks to provide skill and capacity building, business development support and services with market linkage opportunities for sustainable livelihood.

People's Forum stands today for the endeavour of a group of volunteers, who untiringly worked and bestowed their knowledge, time and support to help to reach many milestones. Being involved in the advocacy sphere, the organisation continues its effort in mainstreaming mental health, protection against gender based violence and working on food security issues in the state.

Over the years, the organisation has continued its effort to touch the most relevant societal issues of negligence through its well-equipped field office network and professional human resources starting from institutional development to ensuring a better life to live.

Imbalanced to Balanced life...

A 21 years old girl named Suman Singh was rescued by Mission Ashra Rescue Team (MART) when informed by District Social Security Officer Jharsuguda, Odisha on 6th Dec. 2016 from railway station Jharsuguda. At the railway station she was seen all alone by herself in a very vulnerable situation. After a formal inquiry by MART, Ground Railway Police informed that she had been wandering there since 10-15 days. At first glance it seemed that she suffered from cachinnation and our team rescued her from that place by creating a friendly environment.

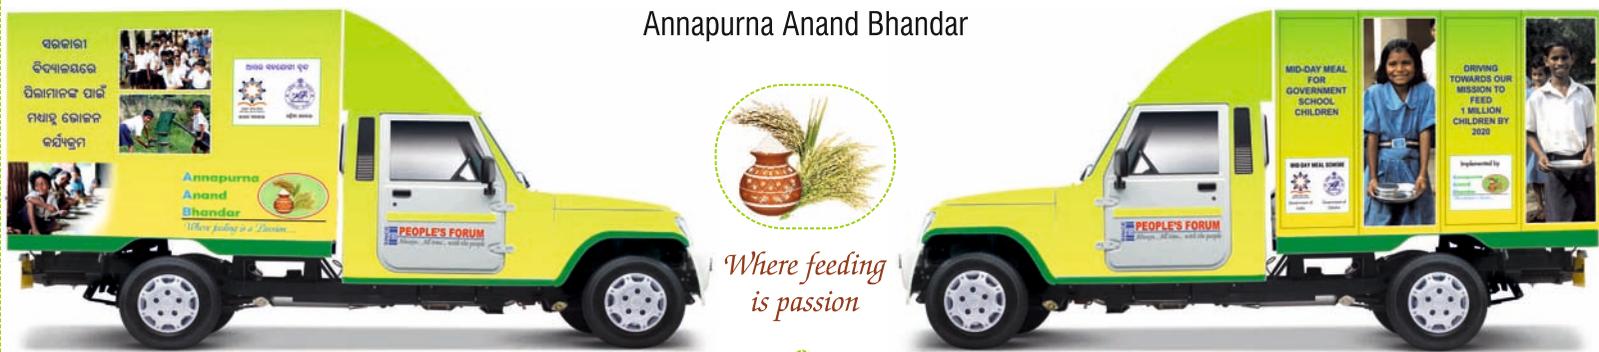

Neha is one of four children. Her father is a salesman in a cloth store at Kolkata. She lost her mother at a tender age of 14. Her step mother took care of her but Neha was not happy with her step mother. Her psychosocial problems started to appear in her adolescence. She started losing sense of her environment and would often run away. She soon realised that she had a psychological disorder due to the increase in the unlawful behaviour. But she never let her parents know of her situation.

Soon after her sister's marriage, she fell in love with her sister's brother-in-law and got married to him despite of her in-laws consent. Her in-laws started imposing restrictions on them, this led to Neha's psychological imbalance which became evident to her parents. Being superstitious, her father took her to a local healer to get rid of evil spirit within her. The process seemed to have a positive impact and she became stable for a while. Looking at the improved condition her father decided to get her married to another person who was an electrician. After a few days of marital life her husband found out that she had relationships outside marriage and that she also had mental disorder. He then started to torment Neha. Her mother-in-law sent her back to her parents. Even the Panchayat was unable to come up with an agreeable solution and since then she started staying with her family. One day in the heat of the moment when she was not feeling herself, she left home and ran away to the railway station, caught the first train that she saw and reached Jharsuguda railway station. It was then that she was rescued by the Mission Ashra team.

During the staying period in Mission Ashra Jharsuguda, she underwent a number of counselling sessions and was given proper medication. Yoga & meditation helped her to remain calm and in her senses. She was put under observation period of 10 days & got psychiatric treatment & personal counselling. She was not responsive in her first few counselling sessions but slowly she started to calm down and started responding positively to the counsellor. Over a period of time with proper healthcare and medication she started to show signs of improvement. She could remember her address and family was contacted. Her father came to Mission Ashra to receive her on 6th March 2017 and Neha was reunited with her family to lead a normal life in the society.

6.7 Safe Water And Sanitation To Household

Safe water and sanitation in India continue to be inadequate, despite long standing effort by various levels of government and communities to improve coverage. In most of the rural areas in India, people are still reluctant to accept water and sanitation measures as a healthy way of life and hence they are prone to various diseases and water scarcity. The Ministry of Drinking water and Sanitation, Government of India started many projects related to sanitation and water security which are misused widely by the rural population. Hence, to meet the objective of ensuring all households have access to and use of safe drinking water and sanitation facilities, People's Forum collaborated with water.org, a US based organisation to fund the project of developing and promoting activities that are required to change the rudimentary mindset of people and to make them aware of personal hygiene and environmental hazard of open defecation.

People's Forum has designed various loan products specially to provide financial assistance to those households which are in need of access to Water and Sanitation facilities. The districts like Bolangir, Khurda, Ganjam, Nayagarh, Bhadrak, etc. has seen maximum number of people reaping the benefits of access to safe water and sanitation. The economic condition of the clients in these districts has also experienced benefits of utilizing toilets, their expenditure on health care has reduced. ### Seed village programme

Agriculture is the major source of livelihood for a large part of the population of Dhenkanal District in the state of Odisha. Out of the total geographical area of 4.30 lakh ha; the net sown area is around 43% at 1.84 lakh ha. Out of the above sown area, around 25% ie. 0.46 lakh ha. is irrigated. The state Govt. has a plan of achieving irrigation potential of 35% in each block. The normal rainfall of the district is 1428.8 mm of which more than 80% is received during kharif season. Therefore, Paddy being a water intensive crop is the main crop grown in the district. The crops grown in the district and their production level are highest paddy area under cultivation at 95,416 ha. The productivity of the crops is low in the district due to the traditional method of cultivation, use of traditional seeds, improper use of fertilizers and pesticides and farmer's ignorance on agricultural practices.

Supply of good quality seed is the starting point of agriculture & also the foundation of seed village programme. As good quality seed alone can increase the yield, seed village programme aims at production of certified seeds through farmers. The seed village programme was implemented by People's Forum in collaboration with NABARD. Seed village programme is essentially a scheme of activities planned and implemented to secure systematically, rapidly and timely supply of good quality seeds in the required quantities.

Farmer's clubs

Farmer's clubs are the grass root level informal forums of farmers. Around 60% of the country's population depends on agriculture which contributes 18% to India's GDP. But the growth rate of this sector has not been satisfactory with less than 2% growth in last 50 years. In Odisha to meet the targeted growth, Farmers' clubs are organised by People's Forum organization with the support through credit awareness & capacity building for which it regularly organises monthly meetings. In this meetings farmers discuss about their own problem & suggest to take up new initiatives. ### Our beneficiaries are:

- Person with Disability: They are hard workers and if are given financial benefits, they excel in their work.
- Single mothers/Widows/unmarried women: They have their family responsibilities on them and have the capability to accomplish those responsibilities effectively.
- Family members of Leprosy affected Patient: They are secluded from other societal groups and are not given economic opportunity.
- Student (Education Loan): Many students drop their Higher education because of lack of financial support. We provide loans for short term job oriented courses such as Diploma courses, nursing courses and vocational courses which are excluded from the list of Bank's financial support.

- Underserved Area: The people who are excluded from formal financial system because of low presence of Banks and other financial institutions, People's Forum want to include those people in the formal financial system and to provide them an opportunity to grow.

Process of KIVA Loan

Innovation wins over...

Innovation does wonder but most of the time it comes with high price. You need to experiment to get something new and these experiments are costly. But the sense of accomplishment is unmatched once you create something new. Laxmipriya Nayak an independent women of Balipatna, Odisha, India is engaged for innovating new designs that keep her products high on demand. Earlier she used to work in her neighbour's handloom and spinning wheel to make saree (Indian Traditional Wear). After selling the sarees in the nearby market, she had to pay her neighbour rent for using their handloom and spinning wheel. The income that she earned after paying of the rent was hand to mouth for her family. As her designs are unique and attractive in nature it called for higher investment. She took a loan from Kiva's partner People's Forum and invested in her own equipment for weaving. She now owns her own handloom and spinning wheel, saves the rental amount and at the same time can produce and sell more sarees than before. She extends her heartiest thanks to Kiva's partner Peoples Forum and dreams of owning more handlooms in the future.
